DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in reply to an amendment filed on August 04, 2005. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 9, 13-15, 18, 19 and 21 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1,2, 5, 6, 9, 13-15, 18, 19 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mazzagatte et al. US Patent 6,862,583 B1 (hereinafter Mazzagatte).

4. As per claims 1, 2 and 6, Mazzagatte teaches a method for sending a print job to a preselected recipient comprising:

encrypting a data stream received in a first peripheral device (i.e., print node, column 2, lines 21-29, 47-49 and column 8, line 57 – column 9 line 22), the first peripheral device being configured to:

store the data stream as encrypted data [column 2, lines 23-26 and column 8, line 66 – column 9, line 1]; and in response to a first user input, access the encrypted data for printing a first hardcopy document using the encrypted data [column 9, lines 25-34, 56-65];

Art Unit: 2135

transmitting said encrypted data from said first peripheral device to a second peripheral device (i.e., printer, column 10, lines 12-29), the second peripheral device being configured to:
store the encrypted data [column 10, lines 25-38]; and access the encrypted data for printing a second hard copy document using the encrypted data [column 10, lines 31-40].

5. As per claims 14, 15 and 19, Mazagatte teaches a printing system comprising:
- a first peripheral device [printer 50, figure 3] comprising:
 - a processor for receiving data stream through a network [column 5, lines 41-51];
 - an encryption module for converting said data stream from plain text to cipher text [column 6, lines 15-20];
 - memory for storing the cipher text until access to said cipher text by a user is authorized [column 5, lines 52-64 and column 9, lines 27-35];
 - a printing mechanism for printing a hardcopy document corresponding to the cipher text [column 6, lines 4-9 and column 7, lines 29-34]; and
 - a sender module (i.e., email program) for transmitting said cipher text through said network to a preselected recipient as an attachment to an email message [column 6, lines 25-31].

6. As per claims 5 and 18, Mazagatte further teaches the method wherein encrypting data stream comprises encrypting said data stream using PGP technique [column 9, lines 8-18].

7. As per claim 9, Mazzagatte further teaches a sender module (i.e., email program) for transmitting said cipher text through said network to a preselected recipient as an attachment to an email message [column 6, lines 25-31].

8. As per claims 13 and 21, Mazagatte further teaches the method, wherein said first peripheral device comprises a manual input device for receiving instructions related to operation of said first peripheral device, said method further comprising receiving an instruction to encrypt said data stream, said instruction being input at said manual input device [column 7, lines 57-63].

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed August 04, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Mazagatte does not teach "transmitting said encrypted data from said first peripheral device to a second peripheral device" as recited in claim 1. Applicant further argues that Mazagatte fails to teach "a sender module for transmitting said cipher text through said network to preselected recipient as an attachment to an email message" as recited in claim 14. Examiner disagrees.

10. Examiner would point out that Mazagatte teaches transmitting print data from a first peripheral device (i.e., print node, see for example, column 2, lines 21-29, 47-49 column 8, line 57- column 9, line 22) to a second peripheral device (i.e., printer, see column 10, lines 12-38). Examiner would further point out that Mazagatte teaches an email program for transmitting cipher text through the network to a preselected recipient as an attachment to an email message [column 6, lines 25-31], which meets the claim limitations. Examiner asserts that Mazagatte teaches the claim limitations therefore the rejection is respectfully maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
